

Chef Dominick Laudia

Boca Grove Golf and Tennis Club

Dominick Laudia, Executive Chef at Boca Grove Golf and Tennis Club, is innovative, imaginative and passionate about food. He has worked at some of the finest country clubs in New York and South Florida. He is currently the American Culinary Federation's Palm Beach County chapter President, has been awarded more than 20 culinary competition medals and was honored as the 2012 "Chef of the Year" from the ACF's Palm Beach County Chapter. He sits on the Community Advisory Board at West Boca Community High School where he is involved with "Café Calaloo", a laboratory restaurant operated by students at the school's culinary academy. Chef Laudia's incredible food, stunning presentation and desire to deliver the absolute best culinary creations has captured the hearts of Boca Grove's members and their guests.
